Crochet

000 Natur

Ref. 22280

The core concept behind this fabric is the art of crochet, reimagined in a modern textile made from recycled polyester. Its design replicates the openwork and textured relief of handmade lace, bringing the warmth of artisanal craftsmanship to contemporary décor trends.
The fabric is crafted entirely from recycled polyester yarns—a choice that aligns interior design with environmental sustainability by giving new life to materials.
With a width of 3 meters, the fabric allows large windows to be dressed in a single piece, eliminating vertical seams. Its weight—exceeding one kilogram per linear meter—ensures the curtain hangs with substance, forming natural, stable folds. Furthermore, its composition makes it fully machine-washable while keeping the crochet structure intact.
